

Treasury Department,

BUREAU OF THE MINT.

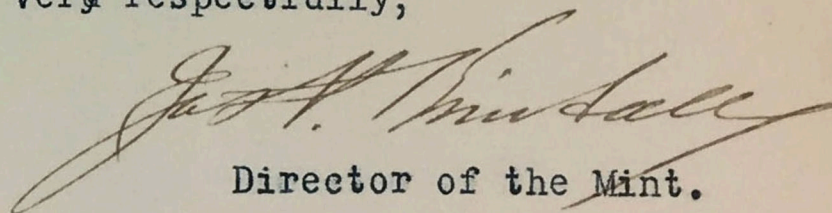

Washington, D. C., July 11, 1887.

Sir:

In reply to yours of July 8, with reference to Bronze Blanks on Wharton's contract, I have to say that I know of no reason why it would not be well to call for fifty thousand (50,000) pounds more from the contractor, to be delivered at your discretion.

You therefore have authority for such action, in order to meet the present and prospective demand for one-cent bronze pieces.

Very respectfully,

Director of the Mint.

Hon. Daniel M. Fox,

Superintendent U. S. Mint,

Philadelphia.

NARA RG104, Entry 1, Box 146

Treasury Department,
Bureau of the Mint,
Washington, D.C.,
July 11, 1887

Sir:

In reply to yours of July 8, with reference to Bronze Blanks on Wharton's contract, I have to say that I know of no reason why it would not be well to call for fifty thousand (50,000) pounds more from the contractor, to be delivered at your discretion.

You therefore have authority for such action, in order to meet the present and prospective demand for one-cent bronze pieces.

Very respectfully,
James P. Kimball
Director of the Mint.

Hon. Daniel M. Fox,
Superintendent U.S. Mint,
Philadelphia.